Other propositions were offered, but as the two we have given were the most prominent, we do not deem it now as the prominent, we do not deem it now as the prominent, we do not deem it now as the prominent.

-A very handsome team was observed on the streets yesterday. The barouche was a very fine specimen of workman-ship, and was much admired by all who saw it; but the fine pair of thoroughbred horses attached created a perfect furore. Upon inquiry, we found the turnout was the tenth prize in Golladay's fifth annual drawing, which takes place on the twenty-seventh instant. The team will remain in the city several days longer, so that all interested parties can see it.

"Shedman" says the purchaser orders

the drayman does not give a receipt for ground through which a cut-off was ex-pected to make during the last high the cotton. From Dr. Watson. EDITORS APPEAL-I observe in your issue this morning a communication written for my "benefit." The article purports to be a defense of Captain Gift, purpores to be a decise or captain of it, yet it does not give one instance where he has been misrepresented. I made no "attack" upon him—only stated what Mr. Miller told me as the only reason why he declined Captain Gift's request for an interview with Mrs. Miller. The "matter" may be "of such insignificance that we have given it not bought. cance that we have given it no thought since the occurrence to the present time;" and yet it was the "matter" tha prompted Captain Gift to write the let-ter to me, and these two names were among those he gave as desiring to visit ber to investigate the subject. If it was "some year and a half ago," then it was more than a year before I ever saw any of the manifestations at the Gayoso, as it was after the middle of February when I first saw her there. No matter when it was, that article was the occasion, and, perhaps, the only reason, why the Ledger pronounces her a trickster, and for that reason I felt it was my duty to refer to the anonymous communicanications involving facts and implicat-ing character, without a responsible name, in the same light I do those who "strike, but conceal the hand." If the Lodger had respected the reports given by different editors of the city, who have requested me to make arrangements for them to see Mrs. Miller, as he did to the nameless article referred to, he would not have written the paragraph would not have written the paragraph which has been the occasion of this discussion. I have not, for many years, felt any interest in physical granifests.

It is worthy of remark that all of those persons who have drawn the larger rifts in the four Gift Concerts of the Ken-tucky Public Library, not one of them has put his money to a bad use, or been injured in any way by his surprising good fortune. With all of them, the large sums of money they have gained has been judiciously invested, and made to produce still other profits.
